“ROLE MODEL” SERIES

Meet and learn from local role models

This summer, the San Clemente Lifeguard & Junior Guard Foundation and Surfing Heritage & Culture Center are sponsoring a three-event “Role Model” series. The series will expose our young watermen and waterwomen to ocean lifestyle role models – lifeguards, top-ranked amateur and professional surfers, big wave chargers, SUP and paddleboard champions, ocean lifestyle brand ambassadors, environmental activists and local “legends.” Each event will be casual, two-hours, where attendees will hear from and interact with our guest “role models” with plenty of time for pictures, and questions and answers.

Our first event, Safety First! was a huge success! And our next two promise to be even better!

Let’s All Share the Stoke!

This event will celebrate being stoked on the beach lifestyle, surfing etiquette, the concept of everyone should be able to enjoy the water, anti-bullying and the importance on “sharing the stoke” by caring for our environment and giving back. Our MC for this event is Laylan Connelly, an avid ocean enthusiast, San Clemente resident, surfer and Orange County Register reporter. Our role models will include San Clemente’s Gudauskas brothers, local pro surfer Crosby Colapinto, local supergroms Sierra Downer, Tyrone Fomenko and Nate Pierce, lifeguard and open ocean swimmer Raselle Chetwynd, and former bodyboard champion, bodysurfer, model and communication expert Natasha Overin. The program will include a special showing of the Positive Vibe Warriors video, You Can’t Steal Our Vibe, which tells the story of how the Gudauskas brothers and others are empowering local youth in South Africa through surfing.
